DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 30-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 30-32 contain new matter, which does not appear to be described in the specification. Specifically, the dimensional limitations in the last paragraph of claim 30 are considered new matter. While the specification does disclose a radial seal embodiment, there is no description of a first distance being greater than one-half a second distance. Further, there is no description that would enable one to apply the distance limitations relating to the other embodiment (i.e. the axial seal) to this embodiment to come up with the claimed limitations.

NOTE: regarding claims 24-26, while the specification does not specifically state the slope is not greater than 45 degrees, there is support for this language (as pointed out by Mr. Hilsmier in a phone interview). Applying the dimensions disclosed on page 9, lines 3-7 to Figure 4, one would see that from geometry angles less than 45 degrees would be disclosed. Applicant is urged to include some written support in the specification for this limitation.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2-4, 6-14, 16, 17, 19, and 21-29 are allowed.

Art Unit: 3676

4. Although no prior art has been applied to claims 30-32, they are not indicated as being allowable due to the 112 first paragraph rejection.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the reasons set forth in paper #15 apply to claims 24-29, also. The prior art does not appear to disclose or teach the dimensional limitations required by the claims in combination with the other limitations. These limitations create a more effective seal wherein deflection is controlled.
